Last night while Constable Rude was arresting Jas. Broderick, he was arrested by partner, interfered. He was arrested to drink but drawing a whisky bottle from his pocket he threw it at Rude. It missed Rude but struck Constable Rude on the temple inflicting an ugly wound. Had it not been for Rude's heavy fur cap he would probably have been much more seriously injured. This morning Rude was arrested and will be tried this afternoon.

EDMONTON DEFEATED.

About four hundred people saw Calgary hockey team win an easy victory over Edmonton on the Thistle rink last night. The game throughout was Calgary's and the final score stood 8 to 1 against the wearers of the green and black. Ed. Sibbald and Jory were unable to play, much to Edmonton's regret.

The teams lined up as follows:

Edmonton.	Calgary.
Morrison, goal.	Goodridge, point.
Johnson, point.	May, cover point.
Orr, cover point.	Robertson, centre forward.
Hood, centre forward.	Bellamy, left forward.
McLeod, Referee, J. C. McDougall.
Goal umpires, A. (Ed.) Large and J. C. Griffith.

The teams lined up at 8:15. Calgary won the toss and chose the north goal. Immediately after the draw off Orr rushes but is stopped by May. Bellamy seizes and takes the puck down the ice, but loses. The game is very fast and Morrison is called on to stop a couple of hot shots. Scrimmage at Calgary goal. Bellamy secures and shoots wide. There is considerable slugging but otherwise the game is not rough. Large and Orr both shoot, but Goodridge is there. Puck returned then Orr makes a long shot and scores the first goal for Calgary. Time six minutes.

There are fifteen minutes left. Johnson gets a cut over the eye from a stick but continues to play. Greenwood passed to McLeod who succeeded in doing the trick for Edmonton. Time one minute.

Large secures from the draw off but loses. Morrison called on to stop a good shot. Orr takes long shot on goal but Robertson blocks and returns. May lifts the puck almost the whole length of ice and immediately after score a hot shot. Bellamy secured and shot, scoring second goal for Calgary in four minutes.

Play is somewhat slower. May and Orr lift from end to end. Orr's long shot is dangerous. Bellamy takes the puck down and shoots. The puck is returned and Robertson sends it back. Hood scores third goal for Calgary, time five minutes.

The game is much faster but Edmonton is off color to-night. There is considerable slugging and some hard body checking. Robertson takes a long lift but Johnson stops. A dangerous scrimmage follows in front of Edmonton goal but Greenwood delivers. May stops a rush on goal. Hood secures and shoots the fourth goal for Calgary. Time five minutes.

The game is going again. Robertson takes a long lift and Orr fouls by raising his stick above his head. Barber gets the puck and shoots but Goodridge is in his place. Continued off sides followed and delays caused by Hood rushing matters at the draw off. McLeod makes a grand run but loses. Robertson takes a long lift which Johnson returns.

Half time. Score 4-1 in favor of Calgary.

The referee rings his bell and they are at it again. Orr and May lift from end to end. Bellamy takes the puck through a bunch of them and passes to Greenwood who takes it down. Johnson returns it. Robertson passes to McLeod who makes a good rush but offside. Bellamy and McLeod shoot but Morrison saves his goal. Bellamy takes it up and passes to Helliwell who loses to Orr. Puck shot on Calgary goal and goal keeper stops it with his hand. McLeod after him, knocking him over and the puck into the goal but the bell had rung for an offside. Hood then scored the fifth goal for Calgary. Time 7 minutes.

May stops a bad rush. Bellamy rushes to pass to McLeod who shot hard but Morrison blocked. Greenwood shoots but a little wide. Barber makes a good rush but Greenwood takes it from him. May and McLeod are playing an excellent game. Cardell secures and scores sixth goal for Calgary.

Calgary are easy winners. Bellamy passed the puck to Greenwood, who shoots. Johnson and May lift from end to end but Barber gets it and scores seventh goal for Calgary. Time six minutes.

After the draw off, McLeod secures, rushes, and makes a hot shot on Calgary goal which Morrison stops. Greenwood shoots close. Calgary makes rush after rush which May stops. Large secures, passed to Barber who scores the eighth goal for Calgary. Time 10 minutes.

The game slackens except for occasional rushes. May blocking same for Edmonton and Orr for Calgary. McLeod shoots but puck is returned to Cardell who rushes. Robertson stops him and returns the puck by a long shot. Greenwood secures and rushes.

Time is up. Calgary team wins by a score of 8 to 1.

The game throughout was poor hockey compared to what has been played here this winter. Edmonton's supporters, although naturally displeased with the result, haven't lost heart by any means. Sibbald and Jory will play to-night and the match will likely be the fastest and most hotly contested yet played in Edmonton.

S. B. McKelrick died from heart failure at his home, in North Sturgeon settlement last night. The deceased was born in the North of Ireland in 1837. He came to Hamilton, Ont., when a boy and no afterwards moved to Brantford. But the greater part of his life was spent in Orangeville, Ont. WIDEN THE BRIDGE.

There is no doubt that the Edmonton bridge is a great convenience, both as a railroad crossing and for team traffic; and there is no question that the use of the same road way by teams and by the railway is a very serious source of danger, a danger which has only been avoided so far by the railway people being remarkably careful, and either running slow, or actually stopping before they go down to the bridge. The conditions could hardly be worse for the use of the bridge by railway and traffic. The train comes to the bridge through a cut and around a bend both sides of the river. Teamsters therefore have no chance to know before hand when the train will be at the bridge. With the train crossing six times a day as it now does, and sometimes even more frequently this constitutes quite an interruption of team traffic, and teams and the train are a mutual cause of delay at any rate, if not of actual danger.

The bridge is very substantially constructed. Provision is made for foot passengers on each side of the roadway, the centre of which is occupied by the railway track. These sidewalks are carried on brackets, which start from the girders of the main bridge, and a light hand rail on the outside makes that very safe, and gives the bridge quite an attractive appearance. People are now beginning to wonder if it would not be possible to replace the sidewalks by roadways. If the present light brackets were replaced by heavy ones, and the present four foot sidewalk, widened to an eight foot roadway, the bridge then would give ample accommodation for both railway and team, and there would be no danger of delay to either. No doubt it would cost something to have this change made, but it would be of very great value, to both the public and the railway company if it were made.

Possibly there may be some sort of joint arrangement arrived at whereby the railway company, using the bridge, or if there were more than one then the railway companies should pay a rental which would go toward the cost of the improvement suggested, in place of their keeping a watchman, as they may now be required to do. The town has contributed liberally towards the bridge, but considering the very great use it has been, and still more, would be, if thus made safe for traffic, it might very well contribute a little more. The government is in the same position. The bridge was built for a certain purpose, it answers that purpose very well, but with the growth of the country, the needs have grown, and if it were possible to have it made safe for both classes of traffic, by the means suggested, it would be sound public policy on the part of the government to make a further expenditure to that end.

Impressions of Western Canada.

The following article is from Industrial Canada and written by S. Motley Wickett, B. A., Ph. D.:

We have been accustomed to think of Canada as length without much breadth. It needs more than a slight effort to adjust our preconceptions. Calgary, we are told, is too far south to be a great centre; Edmonton, two hundred miles or more to the north, is much more favorably situated. Yet the Canadian Pacific railway on which Calgary lies, passes through the Rockies nearly two hundred miles north of the international boundary. The Canadian Northern, it is anticipated, will use the Yellow Head Pass, about one hundred miles north of the Canada Pacific railway; while the projected Grand Trunk Pacific, it is said, will cross the divide by the Fine River Pass, two hundred and twenty miles north of the Yellow Head. The contemplated Trans-Canada railway is spoken of as planning to open up the country still farther north.

In attempting to appreciate the importance of a new Trans-Canada railway we have to remember that as yet Manitoba and the Territories produce less than seventy million bushels of wheat yearly, and that according to the most conservative estimates this is only a fraction of their capacity when they are fully settled. Mr. Hugh Mc-

Kellar, deputy minister of agriculture of Manitoba, has made a stimulating forecast of the possible harvest. His figures are worthy of the West. They do not include the Peace River country and other unorganized sections. The total area of Manitoba and the Territories is placed at 290,820,040 acres. Of this 15,000,000 is fit for cultivation, 23,000,000 being in Manitoba. Take the harvest of 1901 as a basis, leave 14 out of the 25 million for pasture and hay land, the remaining 61 million acres would total 1,000 million bushels of wheat, 600 million bushels of oats and 150 million bushels of barley. By way of comparison, we may note that the present wheat crop of the world is somewhat less than 3,000 million bushels. One has to recall too, that a more northerly route than the Canadian Pacific railway will avoid passing through the fringe of semi-arid country between Moose Jaw and Medicine Hat, and will further open up for Oriental, South American and Australian trade a most promising dairy country.

A great improvement in the breed of western stock is already noticeable, while promising experiments in fruit growing and in other branches have been made. But up to the present opinion seems settling down too quickly to the belief that the prairies are merely good for farming purposes. The Canadian west like the United States west with its fine cities appears to have no intention of limiting itself to an agricultural future. Its industrial prospects have received as yet altogether too scant attention. Large brewing and pork packing, harness and saddlery manufacturers are already found. The coal and iron on the eastern slope of the Rockies are relied on for future progress in due time. Of the possible influence of the Panama canal it is too soon yet to speak. On the far west, however, it cannot well be other than favorable. It is this cheering outlook for Canada in the present and the immediate future which gives such confidence to Canadian business and financial men. Granted a continuance of bountiful harvests for the next few years, Canada is one of the few countries of the world which need fear no serious relapse for some time to come. Moreover, having regard to the industrial balancing of this varied country to which we have just referred and which must come in the future, the confidence also in Canada's permanent national stability.

The westerner is nothing if he is not hopeful. He assures the visitor that the thousands of his "new chums" will all become "good Canucks." United States trusts, he insists, are more terrible to them than monarchy. Familiarity with Canadian institutions and pride in Canadian development will do the rest. But in the meantime the turning again of the eyes and steps of British farmers Canada ward is especially welcome news to the young Dominion.

I was much interested in learning of the extent of United States trade in the west. Mr. McDougall, the collector of customs, has very kindly come to the great trouble of having compiled the returns of United States exports to Canada by way of Manitoba and other western ports of entry. This is the first time I believe that such returns have been published. They disclose a market half as distant and twice as large as the Yukon. It was almost to be expected that the great immigration of 1902 would have led to a more than proportionate increase of free goods passed as settlers' effects. The figures, however, which are really surprising, show that the increase of dutiable goods was even greater than the increase in the value of free goods.

AN ARTIST VISITOR.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Russell, of Great Falls, Montana, returned south on Tuesday's train after a visit to Edmonton. Mr. Russell is an artist of considerable note in the Far West of the United States, who makes a specialty of pictures of western life. His occupation was that of a cowboy before he took up the pencil and brush, and his experiences of the life which he pictures give a living interest to his sketches. His visit to Edmonton was for the express purpose of getting a drawing of a dog train from life. Unfortunately no trains happened to be in from the north, but some interested friends rigged up a train so that he could see one in actual operation. Mr. Russell was distinctly disappointed in Edmonton having expected to find a primitive far trading post, and instead found an up-to-date and progressive town. However, he hopes some day to find his ideal on a trip further north. Mr. Russell is an enthusiast on the West, and particularly the early West, the glories of which it is his ambition to perpetuate on canvas.

NEW POST OFFICES.

Some time ago the Bulletin published some remarks regarding the enterprise of the post office department that were the reverse of complimentary. To show, however, that it is not because the department does not move, but because the country is moving so rapidly that postal facilities are so far behind the demands made. The following is a list of post offices established and now in operation in Alberta during 1902, the total of which is 19: Andrew Chedoke, Clareholm, Crossfield, Cut Bank, Dams, East Clover Bar, Edberg, Fairbank, Grassy Lake, Hill End, Hillsdown, Highland Park, Hunka, Markerville, Marton, Raymond, Rozenroth, Spring Coulee.

The following is a list of those authorized during the same year but not yet in operation: 20 in all; Astleyville, Davidville, Dinton, Ewing, Heather Brae, Independence, Iowalla, Lac Ste Anne, Loch Herbert, Neopole, New Norway, Olsen Creek, Pretty Hill, Probus, Round Up, Skafes, Waboo, Shepard, Forshee, Lesser Slave Lake, (Alba).

RED DEER.

Eighty-five houndstubs were recorded at our local land office during the month of January, and 51 entries up to the 14th of February.

Nine persons from North Dakota arrived in town on Monday to take hand. In spite of the snowy weather, they are well pleased with our town and district.

Mr. W. F. Brett, who contemplated buying the Red Deer furniture store, has purchased three lots on Barnett Ave., Lacombe, for a good round sum from W. Crow, and will erect a large furniture store in the near future.

Land seekers are arriving in large numbers. Alberta land is a drawing card to wide-awake people in all parts of the world. We welcome them with open arms, as they are after a piece of wealth or they would not take the step they have taken.

On the 20th of January last a young lad by the name of Innis, who resides near Haines' post office, went to the house of Mr. Williams, a local Methodist minister, mounted, and called out to Mr. Williams to deliver over his valuables, at the same time pointing a gun at him. Mr. Williams requested him to wait for a few minutes, and returned to the house. The lad heard the rattle of the cartridge Mr. Williams was procuring, he became alarmed and fled. On Wednesday, the 18th February, the daring bandit was brought up before Mr. Chapman, J. P. He was committed for trial, and was sent to Fort Saskatchewan on Thursday, the 19th inst. His trial will take place at the next sitting of court in Red Deer, which takes place on the 19th of March.

SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINMENT.

The Canadian Entertainers, Miss McCoy and Miss Kerr, performed to a very fair and appreciative audience in the Presbyterian church last night. The programme was most effectively rendered throughout, but special mention should be made of the reading by Miss Kerr, entitled "The Soul of the Violin." She rendered this most cleverly, proving herself a true artist in elocution. Miss McCoy's songs were most enjoyable, especially "Concilio a Nina," and her last number, "Good Bye."

The following programme was rendered, supplemented by several numbers given as encores to an appreciative audience.

Song, "A May Morning," Miss McCoy.
Reading, "By the Love," Miss Kerr.
Song, "Kathleen Mavourneen," Miss McCoy.
Reading, "How We Killed the Rat," Miss Kerr.
Songs, "Violets" and "A Life's Lesson," Miss McCoy.
Reading, "The Soul of the Violin," Miss Kerr.
Song, "Concilio a Nina," Miss McCoy.
Reading, "Preparing for Company," Miss Kerr.
Song, "Good Bye," Miss McCoy.
Reading, "How the La Rue Stakes were Lost," Miss Kerr.
The entertainment closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

STRATHCONA.

24th dealer, Feb. 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Laventure, Mr. F. Poine and Miss A. Campbell, of Leduc, spent a part of last week visiting friends in Strathcona and Edmonton.

Robt. Ochener has donated a $50 trophy to the Strathcona curling club. The terms of competition for this trophy have not yet been arranged.

Ge. Main returned to Strathcona on Wednesday after an absence of three years at the Pacific coast. Mr. Main comes directly from Seattle where he has been engaged for some time.

A special evangelistic effort is now being made among the juniors in the Methodist S. S. Next Sunday afternoon the pastor will conduct a baptismal service and receive new members into the church.

One of the best of the many entertainments that have been given at Strathcona this winter was the one by the Canadian Entertainers, Miss Kerr and Miss McCoy, in Ross Hall last Monday evening. Both ladies show splendid natural gifts and high culture in their respective lines of work. Miss Kerr as an elocutionist and Miss McCoy as a soprano singer. There was an absence of professionalism in their bearing which pleased the audience and made the entertainment the more enjoyable.
